This is a rare opportunity to tour the recently completed Battle Stations 21, which is a Training Facility for Navy recruits on handling a missile attacks and other emergencies on a Navy ship. State-of-the-art simulation and training capabilities are built into this one of a kind facility.

A limited number of people can attend the tour and the only means of reaching the facility is by the bus that the SAME is arranging from HPCC to the facility and back. The people attending have to be cleared through security, so if you wish to attend the tour you must RSVP by Feb. 1. The buses for the tour will leave HPCC at 1:30 and return around 4 pm. People who wish to attend only the tour (no lunch), will be charged the lunch price and should plan to be at HPCC by 1:15 pm.
